About Jericho Project

Jericho Project is a nationally recognized nonprofit that has been working to end homelessness at its roots since 1983. What began as a Manhattan soup kitchen has grown into a citywide organization serving nearly 3,000 New Yorkers each year—including over 700 veterans, as well as young adults and families, many of whom identify as LGBTQ+.

Jericho provides more than 600 units of supportive housing through seven permanent residences in the Bronx and Harlem, along with scattered-site apartments throughout New York City. Our housing-first model is paired with wraparound services delivered by skilled case managers, licensed mental health clinicians, and workforce development specialists. Together, these services support our four pillars of stability: housing, employment, wellness, and family.

In 2024, Jericho facilitated over 570 housing placements, helped secure nearly 275 job placements, and delivered over 750 therapy sessions through our in-house Jericho Therapy Program. As we move toward expanding our reach by an additional 2,000 units of housing, we remain committed to helping individuals and families build lasting independence and well-being—one person, one home, and one community at a time.

About the Position

Jericho Project is seeking qualified clinician (LCSW or similar) to provide ongoing counseling for Jericho's newest program, Melrose. The qualified applicant will work in conjunction with other Jericho support staff to serve participants who are formerly homeless. The Melrose, a 78-unit Permanent Supportive Housing Program, serves formerly housing unstable clients who are across the life course, from families and children, young adults, to elderly. Candidates must have experience serving a wide range of individuals with mental illnesses, trauma and substance abuse histories; experience with the homelessness and housing unstable populations is preferred. The candidate should provide services with an awareness of, sensitivity to, and respect for diversity of culture, ethnicity, gender identity, physical and mental abilities, sexual attraction, race, and spirituality or religion. Potential candidates should have experience in evidence-based psychotherapy modalities.
